Welcome to our August update

Site Progress

- The Adam Smith Business School project team have hit yet another milestone by completing the main roof steelwork.
- The installation of the Structural Framing System, which supports the façade, is progressing on the eastern elevation levels 5 & 6, with internal and external boarding substantially complete.
- Areas of the roof that will house the main plant room are being prepared with the installation of a vapour barrier and insulation in advance of plant arriving.
- On the Clarice Pears Institute of Health and Wellbeing building activities continue across a number of fronts, with roof works nearing completion.
- Atrium internal finishes have progressed at level 1 and within the mezzanine area in preparation for the living wall.
- The IT hub room equipment is in the process of being installed by the University team.

Project Look Ahead

- The Adam Smith Business School will celebrate achieving structural completion with the traditional topping-out ceremony on the 12th September.
- The Clarice Pears Institute of Health and Wellbeing remains on course to achieve a handover date of November 2022 with the University subsequently progressing with their remaining works prior to occupation.
- The majority of the works undertaken by the infrastructure project are now largely complete with remaining hard / soft landscaping adjacent to Dumbarton Road being undertaken by the Adam Smith Business School project team.

Community Update

- Football boots were dusted off as Multiplex hosted a 5-a-side tournament.
- The final was a tense affair at 3-a-piece heading into halftime, however Linear's 'Mighty Midgets' retained their 100% record in the tournament coming out on top 6-3 by the time the final whistle was blown.

Environmental Update

- The team working on the Sustainable Urban Drainage System, referred to as the Rain Gardens, were in for a surprise when they came across what was later identified as a field vole.
- Works in the area were temporary put on hold until the site's ecologist visited and confirmed that it was safe to continue with the planting.
